TO METROPOLIS RED MEN WILL GO

Interstate Association to be Formed

Fourth of July Will See Lodges Organized for Annual Meetings Together.

OTEGO TRIBE REPRESENTED.

Permanent organization of the Interstate Association of Red Men will be effected in Metropolis July Fourth, and Paducah will be represented by 100 or 150 members and their friends. This association, organized temporarily in April, is composed of tribes of Red Men west of the Louisville & Nashville railroad in Kentucky; south of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in Illinois; and that part of Missouri that adjoins the territory in Kentucky and Illinois. One hundred tribes will be included in the organization, and official representation will be based on membership. Otego tribe, of Paducah, will be entitled to five delegates.

The steamer George Cowling will carry the Paducah delegation to Metropolis. Railroad schedules in Metropolis make that town accessible from the north and the rivers and railroads will handle the crowds from west Kentucky and Missouri. July Fourth being a day highly esteemed in the lodge, an attendance of several thousand is expected from the 100 tribes. Each year the annual convention of the association will be held on that date and from the part Paducah has played in organizing the association, it is likely that the next convention will be held here.

Arriving at Metropolis, the program for the day will be given on the court house lawn. It will include a parade of the tribes in the morning, speaking and effecting the organization with the election of officers and adoption of the constitution. One of the offices will be sought for Paducah. Metropolis is preparing for a big day and the purely business features will be relieved by a picnic dinner and amusements. In the regular meeting of Otego tribe tonight, the final preparations for the association meeting in Metropolis, will be made. The five delegates will be selected and committees will be appointed to handle the details.

YOUTH'S BRAVERY PREVENTS DAMAGE

Driver of Weille's Delivery
Wagon Guides Runaway
Horse Down Crowded Broadway This Morning

IS FINALLY THROWN OUT.

In a display of rare nerve John Finley, a 16-year-old boy, stuck in Weille's delivery wagon from Seventh street to Second street on Broadway, at 10:45 o'clock, this morning, guiding a maddened horse past vehicles, street cars and around a brass band playing at Fourth street and Broadway, and saving the wagon from being smashed up and the horse injured, and many pedestrians and vehicles from being run down.

The horse had never been hitched to a delivery wagon before, and the rattling frightened it and at Seventh street and Broadway it began kicking, and after breaking parts of the harness began to run. Straight down Broadway it went, the wagon bouncing and swaying from one side of the street to the other. At Fourth street and Broadway a band was playing, and around it were street cars, automobiles, buggies and pedestrians. At Second street and Broadway the horse turned the wagon around and cleared itself of the shafts, running to the river's edge. It was caught and quieted. The wagon was not damaged, and young Finley was the center of an admiring crowd as the fractious horse was being hitched to the wagon again.

NO RAIN FOR PADUCAH;
BUT OTHERS GOT WET.

Rain played all around Paducah last evening, but left a dry spot here. Mayfield had a drenching, Fulton and Cairo got soaked, and Joppa, Ill., had a rush of waters that did considerable damage to crops and ruined telephone connections; but Paducah, Metropolis and Brookport only saw the clouds.

LATER.—We got ours at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

MAGAZINES ARE READ BY COUNSEL

Are Admitted in the Haywood
Trial to Show Animus of Western Miners—One Article
Attacks Steunenberg

THE PROSECUTION WINS POINT.

Boise, June 21.—At the opening of the Haywood trial Judge Wood announced his decision on the admissibility of articles in the Miners' Magazine as evidence. He said the court was thoroughly satisfied as to the admissibility of the articles appearing in the magazine showing the animus of the Western Federation of Miners during the period of the commission of the series of crimes confessed by Orchard and alleged.

Senator Borah read from the issue of the magazine of February, 1900, an editorial entitled "Another Outrage," and dealing with the alleged circulation of a petition by Governor Steunenberg for a continuance of the federal troops in the mining districts of Idaho. The editorial declared that Steunenberg was being well paid for persecuting the miners' union, denounced him as a Hessian and as an "unscrupulous person never known to speak the truth."

Attorney Borah, for the state, today announced he was ready to close. The defense stated they were ready to proceed. Richardson made a motion that Haywood be discharged, alleging the state has not made out a case against him. Both sides probably will argue this point the better part of the afternoon. The motion probably will be denied.

After Regiment and Soldiers
Mutiny Because They Are Sent Against Countrymen

PARIS HEARS ALARMING NEWS.

Paris, June 21. Mutiny is sweeping over the entire army of southern France, according to reports being received by the minister of war today, following the desertion of a regiment this morning. Half of Eighty-first regiment sent against the mutineers mutinied. Later reports say the Hundredth regiment mutinied marching toward Larzac. Unconfirmed reports say other regiments are on their way to take the part of the rioters.

Three Hundred Mutiny.
Three hundred soldiers are detained for duty in the wine-growers' strike at Riots at Adge, mutinied today, according to an official announcement, given out by the government. The men protested against doing police duty against their countrymen. The protest being unheeded, they left their barracks in a body, carrying their arms and several hundred rounds of ammunition and made their way to Beziers, where they are now encamped in a public square.

Grip and Gin Were All Right, But The Backwaters

"I don't eat breakfast wid no man, wot takes me out in de wilderness an' tries to drown me," declared P. Hancock, a colored lodgeman of Louisville, who dripping with water, complained to Patrolmen Sanders and Orr at the Union passenger station this morning. His remarks concerned Harrison Bacon, night porter at the station, and a fellow lodge member, and ignored the fact that Bacon had just rescued him from seven feet of backwater in Katterjohn creek. JAPAN'S BIGHEAD NEEDS TRIMMING

Opinion Expressed by Former Senator E. W. Carmack in Interview This Afternoon—
No Sectionalism

CHOOSING BRYAN'S PARTNER.

"Japan's got the bighead and somebody will have to take it out of her, but I fear no immediate trouble between this country and Japan," said Senator E. W. Carmack, of Tennessee, this morning in an interview. Senator Carmack in appearance is the typical southern gentleman in black suit and black felt hat. While in Paducah he is staying with Mrs. Ellen Morrow, 519 Kentucky avenue, whose kinsman he is by marriage. This afternoon he took in the Matinee races with friends and tonight he will appear at the Chautauqua.

"By all means a southern man should be considered as eligible material for presidential honors," Senator Carmack said, answering a question. "The matter of section should play no part now in the selection of candidates. We should select the man, ignoring sectional lines, and if that man is found south of Mason and Dixon's line, it should not be the slightest drawback."

"Mr. Bryan in all probability will be the candidate of the Democratic party in 1908. It looks like a landslide. His running mate could well be a southern man."

Mr. Tobias Murray.

News of the death of Mr. Tobias Murray at Fort Worth, Tex., reached Paducah yesterday in a telegram to his brother, Mr. Kenney Murray. Death was sudden and came as a shock to his many friends here. Tobe Murray was 32 years old, born and reared in Paducah, being a son of the late Capt. Edward Murray, a prominent ship builder. He had been away from Paducah several years, and was foreman of the Fort Worth Ice company a position he had held five years.

The telegram stated that he died of congestion of the brain after an illness of only a few hours. He leaves two brothers, Messrs. Tom Murray, of Memphis, and Kenney Murray, of Paducah.

The body will arrive in Paducah Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock and will be taken to the residence of Mr. Kenney Murray on Broad street. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the residence, burial in Oak Grove cemetery.

NO INSTRUCTIONS WANTED FOR TAFT

Letter From Washington Read to This Effect

First District Delegation Carried Everything at Republican State Convention.

CAPTAIN FARLEY'S OVATION.

McCracken county's delegation returned last night and today from the Republican state convention at Louisville, satisfied with a duty well performed and gratified with the knowledge that they had their own way in the convention. Every candidate the First congressional district delegation supported won out, and Capt. Edwin Farley and Judge James Breathitt, for whom particular instructions were given at the county conventions, landed the prizes.

"The nomination of Captain Farley partook of the nature of an ovation," said a returning delegate. "District after district seconded his nomination. Two or three candidates' names were sprung on the convention, but no other man received any consideration and before the Eleventh district was reached the convention hall was in an uproar of enthusiasm."

"That face is enough for me," shouted one delegate, who had been struggling to get a glimpse of the captain. "He's an honest man if I ever saw one."

"Captain Farley got as many votes as the candidate for governor."

Judge Breathitt. Judge James Breathitt was left clear off the slate and Louisville papers failed to pick him in their forecasts even up to the hour the vote was taken. It was through the activity of Postmaster F. M. Fisher, who stood sponsor for Judge Breathitt's candidacy that he was persuaded to remain in the race. When the votes were counted Judge Breathitt had over 1,600 and had run away with the big end of the Louisville vote, besides his own, the First and Eleventh congressional districts. He made a speech that electrified the convention.

All the real politics played in the convention was on the part of the First district delegation.

No Anti-Taft Plank.

One of the interesting bits of gossip in connection with the convention was the assertion that a big fight was on between Taft and Fairbanks and that Taft was beaten, by failing to get the endorsement of the convention. Postmaster Fisher was a member of the committee on resolutions, and he is outspoken in his denial of this construction to be placed on the action of the convention.

"It was neither a Taft nor a Fairbanks convention," he said emphatically. "The plank originally intended for the platform concerning national affairs was inserted, and it wasn't because Fairbanks opposed a Taft endorsement, either. As far as the sentiment of the committee was concerned Fairbanks could muster three votes out of the thirteen members of the committee on resolutions. The effort to get Taft endorsed was made by Louisville newspapers and not by any Republicans. We had before us letters from Washington, saying that the president did not expect anybody to be endorsed."

"This convention was not for the purpose of electing delegates to a national convention, and there is no national election before the people. There was no reason why the Republicans of Kentucky at this time should formally affirm their support of any candidate not before the people this year."

"But I will say, that we did put out some candidates that will make the greatest political race ever made in Kentucky, and nothing short of providential interference will prevent their election. When I speak of providential interference I refer to a catastrophe. It was a great convention; enthusiast, evidently imbued with the highest purpose and determined to take advantage of this great opportunity."

INCURABLE

DISEASE WITH WHICH SCHMITZ IS SUFFERING.

Attorneys Declare He Is in Serious Condition and Tell of Conspiracy.

San Francisco, June 21.—Mayor Schmitz's attorneys this evening applied to the district court of appeals for the release of the mayor on bail for a writ of habeas corpus. It is declared by his attorneys that the mayor is suffering from an incurable disease and that imprisonment in jail will cause his death. It is understood that the disease referred to is an affection of the kidneys and that it has advanced to a serious stage.

The petition alleges that the law under which the mayor was ordered into custody is unconstitutional and that imprisonment of the mayor is in furtherance of a conspiracy by Rudolph Spreckles and others through coercive powers to usurp the office of mayor and secure political control of San Francisco.

EXPOSES RANK CAPITOL FRAUD.

Expert Tells Commission Safes Are Not Burglar Proof.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 21.—Chas. D. Montague, a metallic furniture expert of New York, testified before the capitol investigation commission today that the state had not only been grossly overcharged for the metallic furniture supplied by the Pennsylvania Construction company, but that he had gored into the "burglar proof vault" in the state treasury in four hours with an ordinary eight inch breast drill.

Mr. Montague said also that the four safes in the capitol for which this concern was paid $66,000, by the state were worth only $27,000, and that there was no chrome steel or steel rails in the vault, only ordinary steel, which any one could bore into with ease.

As to the first floor metallic furniture, the expert said it cost $229,231.10 and was worth only $132,193.53. On the entresol floor the cases were billed at $151,688.40 and worth $54,470.65. Mr. Montague said Architect Huston "designed" metallic furniture for rooms which do not contain any at all and that the plans for which Huston collected a commission of $80,000 from the state as his own were prepared by a company which supplied metallic furniture to the Pennsylvania company. The expert said that the bronze on the first floor was worth $26,000. The state paid $566,000.

GREW MISS CARROLL'S HAIR

AND WE CAN

PROVE IT

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost.

WITHIN the last decade great and rapid strides have been made in Materia Medica. Many diseases that were considered incurable fifteen years ago are now cured in a few days, and in many cases prevented altogether. The scientists of late years have been delving for the cause, the foundation, the reason and the starting point of disease, fully realizing that the actual and true cause must be ascertained before the remedy can be located. Hair troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp, and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment, and when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all of its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural and logical thing to do in either case is, feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is identical with the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp. It feeds and nourishes the hair and does all the work originally carried on by the natural nutrients or life-giving juices generated by the scalp itself. It penetrates the pores of the scalp quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One twenty-five-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself. Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts we will send a large sample free by return mail to any one who sends this advertisement to the Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name and address and 10 cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

Platform of the Republican Party

The platform of the Republican party, adopted in convention at Louisville, as follows:

We approve the policies and commend the ability, integrity and courage of President Roosevelt and his administration, and without expressing a preference for any candidate, favor the selection by the next national convention for president of one in full accord with those policies, and who will energetically carry them out in the interests of all the people.

Second—We demand that all elections shall be honestly conducted, and declare that the cause of good government and the future happiness and welfare of the people of Kentucky are inseparably bound up in the suppression of all abuses and crimes against an honest ballot, that have so unfortunately disgraced our state under Democratic rule, depriving the people of their rightful heritage—representative government.

The law for registration certificates, imposed on the state by the Democratic party for immoral purposes, whereby votes in Kentucky have become negotiable instruments, passing by delivery, ought to be repealed.

Third—The judiciary of the state in both the circuit and appellate courts, should be chosen on non-partisan grounds, and the continuance in office of faithful judicial public servants should be determined by no other qualifications than fitness.

Fourth—There should be complete publicity concerning the expenditure of money for political campaigns, and a law should be passed providing for an accounting by candidates and campaign managers of all sums of money collected for political purposes.

Fifth—We demand the redistricting of Kentucky in legislative, senatorial, congressional and judicial districts, which shall give equal representation and equal voting power to every citizen of every district, in conformity with the plain requirements of the constitution, and not as at present, in flagrant violation thereof.

Sixth—There should be prompt and efficient enforcement of the criminal laws of every kind, and at all times, but especially at this time do we call for the rigid enforcement of the law against those forms of crimes, which, under the recent administration of justice, in many communities, have gone practically unpunished. Election thieves, gamblers, pool room operators and others, to commit crimes in the interest of those controlling the local administration of some of our cities and counties, should be punished, and the juries should be so selected as to prevent the packing of juries for the purpose of securing verdicts in accordance with the wishes of those in whose hands the selection of the juries is placed, or under whose control and direction they are selected.

Seventh—We demand that the books, vouchers and accounts of all municipalities, all public officers and public institutions supported by the state, counties or cities, and of all corporations in which a city or state owns the majority interest, either directly or through subordinate corporations, trustees or commissioners, shall be open to inspection and investigation by any citizen, and shall be regularly audited and the results published by an independent accountant, who shall not be eligible to re-examine such books, vouchers or accounts twice in succession.

Eighth—We demand a reform in the management of our public eleemosynary and penal institutions, to the end that they shall be operated by bi-partisan boards, upon proper business principles, and their inmates treated humanely.

Ninth—We favor the enactment and enforcement of a uniform local option law, with the county as the governing unit.

Tenth—We demand that the public schools of the state shall be taken and kept entirely out of politics, and that the interests and welfare of the children shall have first consideration in all public school matters.

We call for better schools and school houses, for longer school terms in the country and better pay for the teachers, and the elections for school trustees be had on different days from other elections.

Eleventh—We favor amendments to state laws permitting and encouraging joint nominations of the same candidate by the different parties.

Twelfth—We condemn the law, passed for immoral political purposes creating the racing commission in Kentucky, and demand its repeal.

Thirteenth—We condemn the enactment by the Democratic party of a large number of obnoxious tax laws and the creation of useless offices as the reward of partisan service, and we promise, if given power, to repeal all such laws and reduce the taxes to the lowest possible rate consistent with an efficient administration of the state government.

Conclusion.
For years past the legislation enacted by the Democratic party and dictated by certain of its leaders has not been for the benefit of the citizen, but for the office holder. The chief aim of such legislation has been the continued holding of office and the creation of new offices to be trad-

RAILROAD NOTES

Mr. S. A. Willett, the well known Illinois Central engine foreman, has gone to St. Louis on a week's visit to relatives.

Mr. E. T. Lucas, a brother of Attorney Frank Lucas, is visiting in the city. He is connected with the Memphis Illinois Central ticket office, and was formerly in the railroad service here.

Superintendent A. H. Egan and Roadmaster A. F. Blaess, of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central, are in the city making an inspection.

The Illinois Central shops are clean today, the windows having been scoured and brightened, and the floor swept clean. High officials are coming, and local officials desire to have the shops present the best appearance possible. Mr. J. G. Hoffer, assistant superintendent of machinery, and other officials of the mechanical department are on a general inspection of the mechanical department, and will spend several hours here when they arrive.

Mr. James McLaughlin, Jr., of the Illinois Central machine shops, is suffering from a crushed left hand, which he injured in machinery yesterday.

Snakes at Shops.

Water moccasin snakes have once again made their appearance in the planing mill of the Illinois Central shops. Yesterday afternoon Mr. John Street killed a big specimen in the caboose department, nearly stepping on it before he discovered his danger.

Wins Medal By Risking Ship.

Washington, D. C., June 21.—A bronze "West Indian" medal was today awarded by the navy department to Rear Admiral Benjamin H. McCalla, U. S. N., retired, now living in Santa Barbara, Cal., for specially meritorious conduct other than in battle. The medal was bestowed for "rescuing crews from and in close proximity to burning ships after the battle of Santiago, July 3, 1898." McCalla, then commander of the Marblehead, took his ship close up to the burning ships of Corvera's fleet and saved the Spanish sailors at the risk of the destruction of his own ship from the exploding magazines of the Spanish cruisers.

"Star" Nainsook Underwear

NAINSOOK Underwear is considered the most desirable of summer fabrics, on account of its light weight, fine texture and non-clinging qualities.

We have the exclusive sale of the best of Nainsook Underwear—"The Star." The fabric for these garments is woven especially to the order of the "Star" manufacturers. These garments are constructed on highly scientific principles, the in-seam of the drawers being one continuous seam, thus eliminating the possibility of their splitting in the crotch—the most vital point of the garment.

The shirts are made in the approved athletic style, while drawers are knee length.

Party of Progress, Says Willson, Can't Talk Against Railroad Train

At the state Republican convention Hon. A. E. Willson said:

"Mr. Chairman and Ladies and Gentlemen and Delegates of the Republican Party of Kentucky in convention assembled: I cannot express to you the feeling of deep gratitude that has come to me at this expression of your confidence and kindness. It is to me, the voice of the people calling to a sacred duty. It is received by me as a sacred duty to my country, to Kentucky and to all the people. I shall do what I can to repay the trust that you have reposed in me. My heart is so full that my head is not clear. You know how it is yourself. Every good Republican can put himself in my place and feel just as I feel, and feel just as helpless to tell the rest of us about it. Every one would have the same trouble. But while it has swelled my heart, I say reverently it has not swelled by head.

A Great Responsibility.

"No man can face a sacred duty like this with any feeling but that of serious responsibility. Here is a great people as warm hearted, as independent, as courageous, as splendid a people as there is on the face of the earth, and this people has had its public affairs come into a condition that discourages the people and hurts the glorious name of our great state, and we have come together to begin here tonight the work which shall make a change in Kentucky and shall once more put Kentucky at the very head. (A train went by.)

"I am not going to try to speak against that train. That train is only one of the myriads of trains that are going like shuttles to and fro through the great web of business under the prosperity brought upon the greatest party on earth; there are thousands of these trains, and you can't talk against them. The Republican ticket is for those trains and more of them.

"We begin tonight a campaign that is not intended—(the engine here created more noise)—I take it that engineer has heard the news. (Applause.)

"I started to say that our mission is not to increase the bitterness and rivalry of party differences. It is to start a feeling through all Kentucky of kindness and to accentuate the fact that we are all brothers, and the great majority of our people in both parties believe in a square deal and believe in honest management of the public interests, are patriotic, love their country, love their state; but every once in a while it comes to pass that the management of the controlling party in any state becomes unsatisfactory to the people, it becomes selfish and grasping. Sometimes it becomes corrupt and disappears the people. We have been through that in Kentucky until at last you have lost free and equal elections for Republicans, but the Democrats, the honest Democrats, have come to the point that they have lost their liberties just as really as the opposing party.

A Mission of Freedom.

"My brothers, we have come together not merely in the interest of the Republicans, but we come to free all the people, Democrats and Republicans alike. (Applause.) I sometimes feel that while I am moving forward surrounded by the affection and friendship and cheers of Republicans that I am in a better sense perhaps a missionary to the Democrats who are oppressed by the law.

F. Gent's show boat after 18 hours of navigation, was still in sight this morning from the wharf. Making a mile and a half an hour and allowing a six hours' breakdown every other hour, how long will it take the boat to get to Pinckneyville, a distance of 22 miles? The show boat is hugging close to the shore but if a snag should be struck it would not be hard enough to damage the boat. It is a big load for a gasoline engine.

Emerson's showboat towed by the Antionette arrived at 8 o'clock this morning from the Ohio river.

The Sallito will not leave St. Louis until Sunday afternoon for the Tennessee river, arriving in Paducah Monday night or Tuesday morning.

The Savannah will probably arrive Saturday from the Tennessee river bound for St. Louis.

Business as usual was good with the Kentucky on arrival last night from the Tennessee river. The Kentucky will leave Saturday evening for the Tennessee river.

Not much advantage to local shippers results from broken schedules. Regularity, all the agents of the steamboat lines in Paducah say, is the only thing that will insure business for the packets. The shippers like to ship by river to hold the railroads in check, but they cannot afford to lay their plans only to find that the boat won't be here, or not stay here long enough to take on the business, if it does come.

The Georgia Lee arrived last night at 8 o'clock from Memphis and took on good business in both departments, leaving an hour or so later for Cincinnati.

The Paters Lee will arrive Saturday afternoon from Cincinnati going down to Memphis.

The Martha Hennen is in from the Ohio river and left today for the Tennessee river after ties.

The Henrietta will leave today for the Tennessee river after ties.

All night and most of the day is being put in by the Dick Fowler in the Cairo trade. The Dick Fowler leaves Cairo at 11 o'clock at night arriving here at 4 o'clock in the morning and leaving for Cairo again at 6 o'clock.

The Cumberland will be finished at the ways probably by next Wednesday.

The Fannie Wallace was let off the dry docks today and a barge of the West Kentucky Coal company was lifted out for repairs.

Hovering around a high stage for this time of year, the river rose 2 since yesterday, bringing the stage up to 23.3. The stage on June 21 last year was 10.2. Business is satisfactory at the river. The storms seem to give Paducah the go-by.

The Joe Fowler was a little late arriving from Evansville today and left this afternoon with a good end-week trip.

Omenet forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon will commence falling tonight and continue falling several days. At Paducah, will rise slowly during the next 24 to 36 hours. At Cairo, will continue falling slowly during the next 24 hours.

The Tennessee at Florence and Riverton, will fall during the next 36 hours. At Johnsonville, will continue rising during the next 12 to 24 hours then fall.

The Mississippi from Chester to Cairo, and the Wabash at Mt. Carmel will continue falling during the next 24 to 36 hours.

A New Anecdote of Lincoln.

The day after the great fire following the fall of Richmond, Lincoln, with a small body-guard, walked through the streets of the charred city. As he approached the corner occupied by Gen. Pickett's residence he directed the guard to wait, and to their astonishment ran two steps at a time up to the door and rapped. The servants had fled. The "baby bride" had never seen President Lincoln, but she had read his letters to her husband and from him had learned to hold in the highest esteem the great northern president. With her baby in her arms she opened the door and looked up at the tall, gaunt man with the sad face and uncouth ways.

Without a word of explanation he asked: "Is George Pickett about?"

To hear her husband's name bereft of its title by a Yankee at that moment was almost the limit, especially as many a rumor had floated about Richmond concerning the fate which awaited the leaders of the confederacy.

With all the proud dignity she could command the baby bride replied:

"Gen. Pickett is not at home."

The stranger seemed disappointed and, as he turned to go, remarked: "I am Abraham Lincoln, an old friend of George's."

"Not President Lincoln!" Mrs. Pickett exclaimed. The tall man shook his head, repeating:

"No, just Abraham Lincoln, George Pickett's old friend."

Following the instant promptings of the heart, which still governs her, "the baby bride" thrust her baby into the arms of the gaunt Yankee, as her best effort to express her veneration and confidence, saying: "I am George Pickett's wife and this is George Pickett's baby."—The World Today.

A Sad Case.

He anxiously noted an unseemly reserve in his wife's manner.

"Why do you look so sad, my love?" he asked.

"I was thinking of a poor little beggar child that came here this morning," replied his wife. "Just think, Charles, the poor child was only eight years old and her father was killed in the Civil war and her mother died of sorrow within a year afterward."—Philadelphia Ledger.

WE ARE ALL CITIZENS.

Of course, Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, was a union labor man; but that is not what made him steal. The vital principles of unionism are unsullied by the action of this contemptible scoundrel. The unions in San Francisco only are injured in so far as they stood sponsor for his candidacy. They have burned their fingers playing with fire. The laboring men more than any other class of American citizens have been injured through the manipulation of legislative and executive officials by adverse interests. They should have learned from this the lesson that straightforward, honest execution of the laws, enacted for the benefit of the whole people and not for classes, is best for the laboring man, the professional man, the merchant and the farmer. There are relations in life which separate the mechanic from the farmer, and the lawyer from both of them; but these relations do not pertain to the interests of all as citizens of this country. There can be no difference there. We cannot understand why the carpenters' or the telegraphers' union should require a kind of mayor different from that required by a Methodist preacher, a homeopathic doctor or a furniture dealer.

Maybe some of those reckless auto drivers believe that a man whose horses are frightened can't shoot straight.

And none of the newspapers heard of it until Cleveland was well again.

There is something less than oriental cunning in Ambassador Aoki's accepting President Roosevelt's silence on the subject of indemnity for assaults on the Japs in San Francisco for assent.

We observe it was quite within the range of possibility to assemble the general council in special session to take the city hospital out of the hands of the doctors, but it is too late to pass the anti-toy pistol law in time to prevent a profit to dealers in these children killers. If any youths should die of tetanus from the effects of toy pistol wounds incurred July Fourth, we should not like to assume the responsibility of some members of the general council.

The Persian revolt is crushed, Guatemala and Mexico are resting on their arms on the frontier; Japan has administered a good whipping to the Formosans; French troops have the upper hand in the wine growing section, and the Douma has been smothered. The world powers at The Hague assembled remind us of the picture of a lot of women talking over their back fences, while they try to keep the children still with one free hand so they can hear all the conversation.

Because the cost of living has gone up, cab drivers wish to make it more expensive to die.

What does the advance of one cent on a spool of thread amount to? There are $5,000,000 people in the United States. Reckoning five to a family, there are 17,000,000 families. Every time every family uses a spool of thread the Thread trust is enriched $170,000. If every family should use one spool a week, in a year the trust would profit $8,400,000 by the advance. The trusts understand the principle of taking care of the pennies.

The telegraph operators get what they demanded and will not strike. We are delighted, and will, of course, pay our share of the advance.

We are for street cars to Mechanicsburg, Jefferson boulevard, the extension of the city limits to the natural boundary to the westward, more sewers and cleaner alleys. We are opposed to the sale of toy pistols and loaded canes, for the same reason that we favored roller skating on the sidewalks—because we love the children.

To Wallace park and Tyler, too.

If the conservative general council will take in all Paducah's contributory population, so that we can get them counted in 1910 and make them pay for some of the benefits we afford them, we may get the anti-toy pistol ordinance tacked on as a rider.

Of course, you will vote for the man who buys his groceries, his drugs, his dry goods of you. The fact that he patronizes you is proof of his good judgment and capacity. For the same reason you take most interest in the candidate for the office through which such material as you have to sell is purchased. It is not a far stretch of the imagination to comprehend from this point the attitude of men in large businesses.

We need election reforms in this country. It should start with the electors. They should start it themselves.

THE SCHOOL PLANK.

We quote from the Republican state platform:

"We demand that the public schools of the state be taken and kept entirely out of politics and that the interests and welfare of the children shall have first consideration in all public school matters. We call for better schools and school houses, for longer terms in the country and better pay for the teachers, and that ELECTIONS FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEES BE HAD ON DIFFERENT DAYS FROM OTHER ELECTIONS."

We could go further in reform; but we endorse every word of this. It indicates that, at least one great political party recognizes evils in our school system and that this platform was not a preconceived document, intended to bridge over thin political ice; but a body of principles studiously prepared to meet actual existing conditions. This is a mighty good plank for Prof. J. G. Crabbe to stand on in his contest for superintendent of public instruction. It is what The Sun is contending for in Paducah.

Loeb laughs at the idea of war with Japan, President Roosevelt has gone to Oyster Bay for the summer and the whole administration gives voice to assure us that there never was any danger of war. But we hear the sigh that precedes Loeb's smile, we accept the president's apparent unconcern as a bit of theatrical display and remember that when we were most importunate the state department had no information to impart. There is no danger of war now, and Loeb is admonished to smile.

The gravest danger to our American institutions is the lowering of our individual standards of honor. How can we differentiate between the essential principles of a man, who will deliberately cheat a railroad company out of a nickel, and a man who will rob a house? How can we fairly accuse a man who bribes legislatures and public officials, when we work to elect men to the general council and school board for no reason other than that they will favor us in our private business?

That Chicago preacher, who was exonerated of the charge of writing love letters to a married woman and found guilty of a "lack of caution," should take to heart the good, old maxim: "If you can't be good, be careful."

Sure Enough.

Hicks—"It costs more to live than it did a hundred years ago."

Wicks—"And yet few of us would like to be the people who lived then."

SHE WAS DEAD

BUT HUSBAND DID NOT KNOW IT WHEN HE SHOT.

Strange Tale of Man Who Failed to Carry Out a Suicide Pact.

New York, June 20.—James Wardell told the police a strange story today of the circumstances which led him to shoot and, as he supposed, kill his 19-year-old wife yesterday in her flat in West Twenty-fifth street. Under the pressure of a merciless examination from Coroner Acritelli he told all. His story is as follows:

"I met the girl on the street four years ago, and a year later we were married. She had been leading a pretty life, but for a time we lived in happiness together. Then we quarreled and after a time we separated. 'I went to Connecticut, got work there and tried to forget her. But it was useless. I stayed away from her for nearly three years, but at last I came back here and hunted through the places where I knew she probably would be, until I found her. I asked her to come back and live with me. I told her I would forget the past, and we should begin all over again.

"She said she was tired of the life she had been leading and wanted to come back to me. She told me she had found a friend in my absence and would be killed if she returned to me. Then she suggested that we both die together. We planned it all out to kill ourselves with gas, but she wanted to make sure that we would both die.

"We fixed it up so that we could turn on the gas. Then if she got unconscious first and it looked like I couldn't stand to die by the gas, I was to shoot her and then shoot myself. If I got unconscious first and she got scared of the gas she was to shoot me and then kill herself.

"We closed everything up and turned on the gas. I fixed a tube in her mouth. We lay down on the bed. She breathed in the gas, and after a while she looked like she was all in. 'I was pretty weak, but I climbed over her and started for the door. I was losing my nerve. I dropped to my knees because I was weak and figured that I would be a coward if I didn't carry out the agreement, so I went back to bed.

"I felt her and she seemed to be cold. I kissed her and her lips were cold. Then I took the gun, which had been on my pillow all the time, and shot her in the head.

"After that I turned the gun on myself and pulled the trigger. The first time it didn't go off. I tried again and it failed. The third time was an awful struggle, and it failed again. I was sure it would shoot the fourth time, but it did not, and then I lost out."

At the time of his confession Wardell did not know that an autopsy had disclosed that his wife was dead when he fired the bullet into her brain. Just what charge will be based upon his acknowledgement of an intent to kill the coroner has not made known.

Mrs. Wardell, who was strikingly attractive, was found dead on her bed.

Bardwell Case.

Attorney John K. Hendrick, sitting as special judge, has decided the case of city of Bardwell against the Morrill Refrigerator Car company, deciding that Bardwell can collect a franchise tax for five years back, but can not collect a tax on personal property as it is located in Iowa. The company manufactures refrigerator cars, and was incorporated in Bardwell. Its plant is in Ottumwa, Iowa. The case had been taken under advisement for several months. The tax will amount to about $7,000.

The Dawn of Reason.

In the days of unreason, when thinking by the many was at a discount, and man accepted and followed the beaten trails of custom, superstition and prejudice, disease was thought to be the results of the activities of evil spirits. In order to cure, the spirit must be driven out, and spells and incantations were resorted to. Later man considered disease a visitation of the just, wise, merciful Almighty Father—Who in His infinite wisdom, they thought, saw fit to inflict pain, misery and deformity on His children.

As man began to make use of his thinking powers he began to realize that disease is not a thing but a condition; a state, a discord in nature, and that "within himself he must seek succor;" that the laws of nature or the laws of God, and that both are perfect,—improvement, as well as disregard of them impossible.

Health is normal and natural. Osteopathy so recognizes it and endeavors, when the symptoms become manifest in the human body, to discover and right the cause. The osteopath searches for and locates the structural derangement. No matter what is the nature of disease, it could not exist if there was normality of structural make-up.

Osteopathy is doing much for people in Paducah you know well and I should like to refer you to some of them, at any time, if you are interested, or to have you consult me with reference to your particular ailment. Call me at 1407, or come to my office, 516 Broadway, upstairs, at any time from 9 a. m. to noon, or 1:30 to 5 p. m. Dr. G. B. Froage, Osteopath.

CHAUTAUQUA

BIG CROWD OF OUT OF TOWN
FOLKS COME IN TODAY.

Senator Edward Carmack Is Proving a Great Drawing Card—Concert Company.

Proving that an all-star program would make Paducah during the Chautauqua season, the mecca of pilgrims at the shrine of intellectual culture, within a radius of 100 miles, the first visitors from out-of-town are in evidence today on the Chautauqua grounds to hear Senator Edward W. Carmack, of Tennessee, in his brilliant lecture tonight "The Making of a Man." Arrivals from surrounding towns are expected on all trains until midnight.

Senator Carmack has a virtue force that made him felt in the senate, and his lectures on the platform ring with a strength that inspires his audience. Hon. Charles K. Wheeler will introduce Senator Carmack. His lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

Morning attendance at the Chautauqua took a decided leap upward today, Victor E. Baksh, a native of India, delivered the first of three lectures on India and its people and his lecture, with the interest Mr. James Speed has created, drew the largest crowd out this morning that has attended in the forenoon. To pronounce Mr. Baksh's name correctly, say the word "backshot" and leave off the "ot."

"Won't you come with me to see me put on my hat," asked Mr. Baksh of two young women, who had become interested in that gentleman. This interesting process consisted of winding the native turban around his head. Then they laid him off toward the Woman's club tent.

Following a romp of the children read by Miss Hemenway, Mr. James Speed lectured this morning on "A Winter's Day Afield." The large audience that heard Mr. Baksh, stayed to hear Mr. Speed and his lecture was illuminated by the questions they asked. Tomorrow morning Mr. Speed appears for the last time.

The Wesleyan made quartet is entertaining the Chautauquans this afternoon followed at 4:30 by the Chautauqua Concert company.

Threatening weather undoubtedly affected the attendance last night at the Chautauqua to hear Mr. Lou J. Beauchamp. But a good crowd heard him and were glad they attended for few lectures have been given here which contained more sound thought. He addressed his remarks particularly to young men and emphasized the need of character as the cornerstone of their lives in successful careers.

Miss Melsker, the soprano, whose singing has been one of the most pleasing features of the Chautauqua, Miss Carroll, the popular violinist, and Miss Hemenway, will give a concert tonight preceding the Carmack lecture.

Why Age Improves Wines.
"Why do wines improve with age?"
"Because they marry," answered the expert.
"Marry?"
"Yes; that is the term used in the trade. 'This sherry,' we say, 'has married well,' or 'that '96 hock has married hastily.' We mean by a wine's marriage that its different components—the alcohol, the sugar, the carbonic acid and so on—have blended together smoothly. In a new wine this blending, this marriage, has not yet taken place, and hence the harshness of new wines. Old wines are delicious because the alcohol and sugar and acids and others have all married together into one fragrant compound."—New York Press.

ONLY SHAMMING.

The man was cold and stern;
The maid was cute,
It made us fairly burn
To see the brute
Neglect that girly fair,
That slender slip,
And from the window stare

He let the time drag by
Without a word,
We longed to kick the doll,
And but for her,
He might have had a jolt,
I do aver.

GETS CHUNK OF IOWA.

Erratic Missouri River Moves 6,000 Acres to Opposite Shore.

Sioux City, Ia., June 21.—By cutting through Sand Hill lake, in Monroe county, this morning the Missouri river moved 6,000 acres of Iowa land over to the Nebraska shore. Farmers who went out to plant corn reaped a harvest of catfish, as the river swallowed up almost two whole farms. Sand Hill lake formerly was the river bed and has been a fishing resort for fifteen years. It is now destroyed.

PEOPLE AND SOCIAL EVENTS

For Guild Benefit.

For the benefit of the Guild of the Grace Episcopal church a clever little comedy is to be given the first week in July. As for the place of presenting it has not been definitely decided, but a stage may be erected on Colonel L. D. Husbands' court on Jefferson street, or the Casino at Wallace park may be selected. Miss Anna Bird Stewart, of Cincinnati, formerly teacher of English in the high school, who has been visiting in the city for the last several weeks, will play the leading role and will have charge of the rehearsals. The best talent in the city will be selected and the cast will contain about 25 persons. "The Romancers" is the title of the comedy and it is said to be a fine one and especially adapted for the presentation by amateurs. Incidental music will be a feature of the evening. Under Miss Stewart's management the play is certain to be a success and a large audience may be expected to be in attendance.

McKinney-Sexton.

Miss Sarah McKinney, of Cadiz, and Mr. Morris Sexton, of this city, were married in Brookport, Ill., last Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The bride is a popular girl in Cadiz and is a charming young lady. Mr. Sexton is an employee of the Paducah Furniture Manufacturing company, and came here January 1 from Cadiz. Mr. and Mrs. Sexton are making their home in this city.

"Southern Day" at the Tent.

This was "Southern Day" at the Woman's club tent and it proved the most successful yet. A large audience was out today on account of the strong program, and this evening Hon. E. W. Carmick, of Tennessee, will speak, so preparations have been made to serve a large crowd. The tent was prettily decorated with flags and hospitality was extended to all who called at the tent. Tomorrow is the last day and those in charge will be: Mrs. Frank Boyd, chairman; Messdames Hal Walters, Lloyd Boswell, Paul Dysart, Mildred Davis, James P. Smith, Charles Wheeler, E. P. Noble, Saunders Fowler, Louis Riecke, Oscar Gregory, D. H. Hughes, William McPherson, treasurer; E. W. Baker, Mary G. Palmer, James Rudy, I. D. GORMAN'S SON LIKE FATHER.

Maryland State Senator Rules County Democratic Convention.

Baltimore, Md., June 21.—State Senator Arthur P. Gorman ruled the Howard county Democratic convention today, just as his father ruled the state and county party organization for many years.

He was renominated for state senator and his friends say if the Democrats control the next legislature he will be the recognized leader. Young Gorman not only bears a striking physical resemblance to his father, but also has inherited his political shrewdness.

While Congressman Fred Talbott, the boss of Baltimore county, and a Maryland member of the Democratic national committee, is the organization's favorite for United States senator, young Gorman, in event of a contest, may make a play to succeed his father.

BURGULARS FRIGHTENED

AWAY FROM RESIDENCE.

Burglars were frightened away from the residence of Mrs. Manie Cobb, 616 Broadway, last night between 11 and 12 o'clock before they gained entrance to the house. The family had retired and a noise was heard at a rear window. A telephone message to the police station brought Patrolmen Brennan and Shelby to the scene. A thorough search of the premises failed to find the burglars, who evidently made their escape over the back fence through adjoining yards.

The Business of Baseball.

The game as nationally organized is divided into major and minor baseball. This is a distinction which prevails between the players' professional-promoters in their understandings with one another—it is both a professional and commercial division. The two major leagues, the National and the American, are each an association of clubs (or properties, in the financial view) which employ the star players of the country and handle them according to the business methods made necessary by metropolitan demands. On the other hand the multitude of minor leagues, also composed of professional players, provide the best that can be afforded by crowds of the second and third magnitude. There are about thirty-three baseball leagues, and altogether they furnish the regular series of games to 256 cities and towns in the United States and Canada—for Canada has become a part of us in this respect, and crosses our borders regularly to give us pitched battles. A season's pay roll for these players amounts approximately to $4,000,000.—The Century.

In Police Court.

Fred Grover was held over for stealing watches and pistols from Robert Noble's farm.
Mrs. Eliza Sweeney was given 50 days in jail for being drunk and disorderly.
Other cases: L. E. Jenkins, using profanity, continued; Columbia Mfg. company, breach of ordinance, continued; L. D. Sanders, breach of ordinance, continued; Robert and Blanket Bush, colored, immorality, continued.

A Collector.

A passing stranger was attracted by frightful screams coming from a little house not far from the road. Hurriedly tying his horse, he ran to the house and found out that a little boy had swallowed a quarter, and his mother, not knowing what to do, had become frantic.
The stranger caught the little fellow by his heels, and, holding him up, gave him a few shakes, whereupon the quarter soon dropped to the floor.
"Well, mister," said the grateful mother, "you cert-n-y knowed how to get it out. Are you a doctor?"
"No, madam," replied the stranger, "I'm a collector of internal revenue."—Exchange.

A Record Year.

Though the first half of 1907 has not passed, its record of casualty already exceeds the total of 1906. There have been thirty-eight railroad accidents of more than ordinary magnitude, in which 273 persons have been killed and 925 injured.
Twenty-three steamers have been wrecked, involving the loss of 902 lives.
There have been thirteen mine accidents in which 355 persons have perished.
These casualties have been due to human negligence or ignorance in a large part, but nature has been destructive also. Tidal waves have swept away 2,240, earthquakes 5,100, hurricanes 530, cyclones thus far, seventy.

The cloud has a silver lining, however. The total of gifts and bequests in all forms of philanthropy in less than six months of 1907 is larger than the total for the twelve months of 1906 being $108,961,589, as compared with $106,281,983. And never have there been five months during the last twenty-five years in which the total of embezzlement and various forms of defalcation has been as small as in the first five months of 1907.—Chicago Tribune.

Emanuel Lasker, the chess expert, was discussing the ethics of a certain style of play. "Well," he ended, laughing, "I suppose it is all right; but it is intricate, eh? It is like the subject discussed in the debating society. 'Is it wrong to cheat a lawyer?' The decision, after three hours' argument, was: 'Not wrong, but too difficult to pay for the trouble.'"

MISSISSIPPI IS TO BE DISCARDED

Canal From Great Lakes to
Gulf of Mexico

Scheme of Capt. Robert E. Orr Disclosed in Washington Is Ambitious.

HE HAS FIGURES FOR IT ALL

Washington, June 21.—Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway enthusiasts are looking forward to the presentation of a new scheme to connect the inland seas with the Gulf of Mexico. Word has reached here that plans are being prepared by Capt. Robert E. Orr, of Illinois, which contemplate practically the abandonment of the Mississippi river south of Cairo and the utilization of a chain of lakes in establishing the proposed new route. It is reported that a $50,000,000 appropriation will be sought to put the scheme in operation.

Capt. Orr's figures, according to reports, estimate that the cost would be about the same per mile as railroad construction. He would have the work begun at Lake Borgne and would carry it north to Cairo, dividing the operation into five sections of about one hundred miles each. From the western end of this lake a cut would be made to lakes Pontchartrain and Maurepas. From these lakes the channel would follow a course slightly northwest until Spanish Lake was reached, when it would assume a north trend and parallel the Mississippi river until it got to Cairo, where connections with the Mississippi and Illinois rivers would be made. Once into the river the proposed route would be that already discussed and connect with the lakes through Chicago's sanitary canal.

Capt. Orr expects to enlist the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterway association in the matter and will ask that organization to support his plan. This is the logical association to press the fight before the next congress, if one is to be made, for the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, while it is the most representative organization of its kind in the country, is committed to no individual plan of betterment and believes only in the general proposition that the federal government should expend $50,000,000 a year on the work of general waterways improvement. The congress, which counts its members in every state and territory in the union, is endeavoring to increase its membership so as to further its program at the coming session of the national legislature. Capt. J. F. Ellison, of Cincinnati, secretary and treasurer of the organization, is bending all his energies to this end.

To return to Capt. Orr's plan, he estimates that it will require four years to complete each of the sections, or twenty years to finish the entire Mississippi portion. His scheme to take the work a section at a time, completing each link, throwing it open to traffic, Capt. Orr is confident will work great economies. He believes that it would be possible to secure big returns from the gigantic undertaking almost from the beginning of work, and at the same time build up new territory and give shippers transportation accommodations which such a waterway naturally would afford.

Capt. Orr is said to have made a personal survey and close study of the route he has selected. It lies east of the Mississippi and close to the foot hills, where soil, as he explains it, is to be found that will furnish a splendid foundation. In addition it will be possible to use this soil in the construction of banks, and dikes. The proposed canal will be fitted with locks, but how many the reports do not indicate. It is said that Capt. Orr is firmly of the opinion that it is cheaper to lift a vessel than to compel it to force its way against a heavy current.

MRS. KAUFMAN ACCUSED OF MURDERING SERVANT.

Husband, Son and Counsel Shocked
By Verdict of Manslaughter.

Flandreau, S. D., June 21.—Mrs. Emma Kaufman, wife of Moses Kaufman, for years a wealthy Sioux Falls brewer, and who has been on trial for the past ten days charged with the murder of Agnes Polreis, her 16-year-old servant, was today found guilty of manslaughter in the first degree. The conviction was a great shock to the defendant, her husband, her son and her counsel, all of whom had confidently expected acquittal. When the fatal words fell from the lips of the foreman of the jury, Mrs. Kaufman's head sank upon her hands. Throughout the proceedings she sat in an attitude of extreme dejection. The counsel for the defense gave notice of a motion for a new trial. This will be argued before Judge Smith at Yankton October 10. Judge Smith fixed October 21 as the date for passing sentence in the event a new trial is denied. Bond in the sum of $25,000, furnished last June, will stand and in the meantime Mrs. Kaufman will be at liberty. The girl died in a hospital from injuries which the state charged were inflicted by Mrs. Kaufman.

SECRETARY TAFT AND PRESIDENCY.

"You Just Let That Question Mark Stand," He Says.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 20.—When Wm. Taft, secretary of war, arrived here this morning has attention was called by an Associated Press correspondent to a story printed in the Kansas City papers quoting the Washington Times to the effect that the secretary may retire from the presidential race, it being intimated that he is not physically equipped for a long presidential campaign. The story bore this caption:

"Taft not run?"
Secretary Taft declines to discuss the subject and dismisses the matter by saying laughingly:
"You must let that question mark stand."

Momer had just smitten his blooming lyre and burst into tears. "What's the matter, dear?" asked Mrs. Momer sympathetically. "I have just realized," he sobbed, "how puny I must seem alongside of Theodore Roosevelt when it comes to smiting lyres." Whereupon, to ease his soul in forgetfulness, he chortled out six books of the Odyssey.—The Gaddy.

CLASS STRUGGLE IS RECOGNIZED

Hatred of Employers Expressed

Claims To Embrace Socialism and Demands His Emancipation
From Slavery.

MAY CAUSE SPLIT IN MEETING

Denver, June 21.—The convention of the Western Federation of Miners spent the entire forenoon discussing the proposed new preamble to the federation's constitution, which commits the organization to socialism. The debate was very spirited at times. No action on the preamble was taken. The proposed preamble in part is:

"We hold there is a class struggle in society and that this struggle is caused by economic conditions; the producer is exploited of the wealth he produces; the class struggle will continue until the producer is recognized as the sole master of the product; the working class must achieve its own emancipation and the industrial union of all useful workers is the surest and wisest method of attaining this end."

"Therefore, we, wage slaves employed in and among mines, mills and smelters of the United States and Canada, have associated in the Western Federation of Miners, the mining department of industrial workers of the world."

Percy Rawling, of Goldfield, Nev., leader of the radicals, who control the convention, said in a speech there can be no friendly relations between employer and employee because there never can be friendly relations between any thief and the man he robs. He advocated discarding the present preamble, and said he wanted to go on record as an enemy of all employers of labor. This was greeted with great applause.

The conservative element predicted a revolt in the negotiation if the new preamble should be adopted. Even if it received a majority on the referendum vote, it was declared, a large number of members will refuse to accept it and a split in the order will follow.

Remarkable Rescue.

That the truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased; the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed for coughs and colds 50c. and $1.00, at all druggists. The KING of DIAMONDS.

By Louis Tracy.

Author of "Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1908. By EDWARD J. CLODE.

The man, in spite of his own great lack of composure, saw the fleeting glimpse of spirituality in the boy's eyes. Puzzled and disturbed though he was, he made another violent effort to pull his shattered nerves into order.

"There is no need to talk all day," he said doggedly. "Now I am going to tell you something you don't know. If your boast is justified—if you really own as many diamonds and as good ones as you say you own—there must be a great deal of discretion exercised in putting them on the market. Diamonds are valuable only because they are rare. There is a limit to their possible purchases. If the diamond mines of the world were to pour all their resources forth into the lap of the public there would be such a slump that prices would drop 50, 60, even 80 per cent. Do you follow me?"

"Yes," nodded Philip.

A week earlier he would have said, "Yes, sir," but his soul was bitter yet against Isaacstein.

"Very well. It may take me months, years, to realize your collection. To do it properly I must have some idea of its magnitude. If there are exceptionally large stones among it, they will be dealt with separately. They may rival or eclipse the few historical diamonds of the world, but their worth can only be measured by the readiness of some fool to pay hundreds of thousands for them. See?"

"Yes," nodded Philip again. His sententiousness brought the man to the point.

"Therefore you must take me into your confidence. What quantity of stones do you possess and what are their sizes? I must know."

Isaacstein, cooler now, pursed his lips and pressed his thumbs together until they appeared to be in danger of dislocation. It was his favorite attitude when engaged in a deal. It signified that he had cornered his victim. Philip, appealed to in this strictly commercial way, could not fail to see it was to his own interest to tell his chosen expert the exact facts and nothing but the facts.

The boy, singularly unfurled in tone and manner, hazarded an inquiry.

"What amount of ordinary diamonds—in their money value, I mean—can you dispose of readily in the course of a year, Mr. Isaacstein?"

"Oh, $200,000 or $300,000 worth. It is a matter largely dependent on the condition of trade generally. But that may be regarded as a minimum."

"And the bigger stones, worth many thousands each?"

"It is impossible to say. Taking them in the lump at values varying from a thousand each to fancy figures, perhaps $50,000 worth."

"It would be safe to reckon on a quarter of a million a year, all told?"

"Quite safe."

"Then, Mr. Isaacstein, I will supply you with diamonds of that value every year for many years."

The man relaxed the pressure on his thumbs. Indeed, he passed a tremulous hand across his forehead. He was bent again, and he knew it—worsted by a gutter snipe in a war of wits.

The contest had one excellent effect. It stopped all further efforts on Isaacstein's part to wrest Philip's secret from him. Thenceforth he asked for and obtained such diamonds as he needed and resolutely forbade himself the luxury of questioning or probing the extent of his juvenile patron's resources.

But there was a long pause before he found his tongue again. His voice had lost its aggressiveness when he said:

"In the police court I valued the diamonds you produced at $50,000. It does not necessarily follow that I am prepared to give such a sum for them at this moment. I might do so as a speculation, but I take it you do not want me to figure in that capacity. It will be better for you, safer for me, if I become your agent. I will take your stones to Amsterdam, have them cut sufficient to enable dealers to assess their true worth and sell them to the best advantage. My charge will be 10 per cent and I pay all expenses. Today I will give you $50. Tomorrow I will take you to a bank and place five thousand to your credit. Meanwhile I will give you a receipt for thirty stones, weighing in the rough so many carats, and you or any one you may appoint can see the sale vouchers subsequently, when I will hand you the balance after deducting $5,000 and my 10 per cent. The total price may exceed fifty thousand or it may be less, but I do not think I will be far out in my estimate. Are you agreeable?"

Some inner monitor told Philip that the man was talking on sound business lines. There was a ring of sincerity in his voice. Apparently he had thrust temptation aside and was firmly resolved to be content with his 10 per cent.

And this might well be. Twenty-five thousand pounds a year earned by a few journeys to the continent—a few haggling interviews in the Hatten Garden office! What a gold mine! Moreover, he would be the head man in the trade. He was that now, in some respects, but under the new conditions none could gainsay his place at the top. Even the magnates of Kimberley would be staggered by this new source of supply. What did it matter if the boy kept to his rags and amazed the world so long as the diamonds were forthcoming? It was no silk-batted gentleman who first stumbled across the diamond laden earth of South Africa. Isaacstein had made up his mind. Fate had thrust this business into his lap. He would be a fool to lose it out of mere curiosity.

"Yes," said Philip. "I agree to that."

"Samuel!" yelled Isaacstein.

"Coming, sir," was the answering shout, and a flurried clerk appeared.

"Bring in the scales, Samuel."

The scales were brought and a level space cleared for them on the desk. Philip, of course, had never before seen an instrument so delicately adjusted. A breath would serve to depress the balance.

The boy held forth his paper and poured the contents into the tiny brass tray of the scales. Samuel's mouth opened and his eyes widened. It was his first sight of the diamonds.

"Four ounces eight pennyweights five grains—629 carats in thirty stones. Oh, good gracious me!" murmured the clerk.

Isaacstein checked the record carefully.

"Right!" he said. "Put them in the safe."

Philip raised no protest this time. He knew that the man would keep his word. Indeed, Isaacstein told Samuel to bring him fifty sovereigns, and ere the man returned he began to write on a sheet of letter paper:

"Received from—Here! What's your name?" he broke in.

"Philip?"

"Philip what?"

"That will do today, thank you. The next time I call I will give you my full name and address."

"Please yourself. I am no judge in this matter," he wrote out.

Received from Philip, a boy who refuses any other name, but the same whom I saw in this office on the 20th inst., and again at the Clerkenwell police court on that date, thirty meteoric diamonds weighing 629 carats. I hereby agree to dispose of the same and to render true account of the sales to said Philip or his agents, my commission to be 10 per cent, the expenses payable by me. I have today handed the said Philip $50 in gold and undertake to place $5,000 to his credit tomorrow with my bankers.

REUBEN ISAACSTEIN.

After completing this acknowledgment he scribbled something else.

"There," he said, with a sigh of relief, "that is not a very formal document, but it will suffice. You can get it stamped tomorrow at Somerset House. Just sign this receipt for $50."

Philip took the two papers and read them carefully. Isaacstein's handwriting was a scrawl, but legible enough. The boy reached for a pen and signed his Christian name. He was on the point of adding his surname in an unguarded moment, but he felt the man's eye on him, so he sharply wrote "Philip" across the stamp at the foot of the receipt.

Isaacstein fully appreciated the incident and knew that his own eagerness defeated the chance, all the more powerful because it was involuntary, of ascertaining the name of this marvelous youth.

Philip gathered up his gold, not without counting the coins. They felt strangely heavy in his pocket—much heavier than the stones they replaced, yet they formed but a thousandth part of the value of those flintlike pebbles. What a queer problem it was, this ratio of worth between a few stones and the bright minted sovereigns!

"What time shall I call tomorrow?" he asked, standing cap in hand, ready to take his departure.

"At 11. But wait one moment. Have you no friends to look after you? See what trouble you may get into. Why, the mere possession of so much gold by a boy like you may—"

"I can take care of myself, Mr. Isaac-stein. I will be here at 11. Good afternoon."

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret medicinal compounds, Dr. J. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broad-ast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them medicines of known composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, rapid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different kinds of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books is mailed free by letter to Dr. J. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the important functions, correcting displacements, relieving nervousness, and restoring vitality, and bringing about a perfect state of health. JEFF. BOULEVARD WITH COMMITTEE

Proposition Goes Before Board of Aldermen

Mayor Yeiser Has Plan to Fill Park Site at Tenth Street and Broadway.

SOME MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

Representatives of the Paducah Traction company and of the property owners on Jefferson boulevard beyond Nineteenth street were present at the meeting of the board of aldermen last night. It is the intention to start the work at once, so the benefit may be enjoyed this year.

The plan presented was for a strip 24 feet wide in the middle of the street and the traction company agrees to sow this in grass and to keep it watered and cut. The improvement of the street is between Nineteenth and Twenty-fifth streets. Manager Bleeker, of the traction company, said he was perfectly willing to make the same improvement on Fountain avenue. The improvement would leave a driveway 27 feet wide on each side of the grass strip. In using the strip the manager of the company stated ultimately the company would double track Jefferson street and this was one reason why only grass would be used, to beautify the spot. As the traction company now owns 22 feet in the middle of the street, and the plan reads for 24 feet, this would necessitate the city deciding to the company two feet. After juggling with the proposition some time the aldermen referred the matter to the city engineer and joint street committee.

Bids will be asked for in two ways for the improvement of Broadway and Jefferson street. It is the mayor's plan to have all necessary dirt for filling in the property recently bought by the city at Tenth street and Broadway, hauled from Broadway and Jefferson street when the improvements are made. Some of the aldermen thought this would add to the cost of constructing the work, so the conclusion was reached to ask for bids when the contractor hauls the dirt and when the city's teams do the work.

Miscellaneous Business. The petition, signed by a number of the doctors of the city, asking that Dr. J. T. Reddick be appointed to succeed Dr. J. T. Brooks on the board of health, was read and received and filed.

The gutters on North Ninth street between Monroe and Jefferson streets were reported higher at the point where the storm water sewer connects than at other points. Alderman Stewart said it was nothing less than a nuisance. The board of public works was directed to see about lowering the grade of the gutter.

The Paducah Home Telephone company wished to install three telephones at the fire stations in the city. The city has ten phones gratis and as these are all in operation the company asks the city to remove three to the fire stations or rent three. The matter was referred to the telegraph and telephones committee.

For services rendered in defending Patrolman Aaron Hurley when suit was filed in United States court, Attorney J. C. Flournoy handed in his bill for $50. It was referred to the finance committee.

Evidently the council will have to go it alone in annexing Tyler to the city as the aldermen did not take any action when the communication was read last night.

Street Work. A new ordinance was ordered rushed through providing for the improvement of Farley place. The city solicitor explained that it was not any fault of the ordinance committee that the street was specified at Short street, but that he went to the city engineer's office and one of the

DEMAND EXCEEDS SUPPLY OF BEEF

Secretary Wilson Gives Rational Reason For Rise

More People Eat Beef and Proportionately Fewer Are Engaged in Producing.

STATISTICS TO PROVE VIEW

Washington, June 21.—That the recent rise in the price of beef is not attributable to the beef trust, can be accounted for on rational grounds by natural conditions, is the opinion of Mr. Wilson, secretary of agriculture. He said that, in spite of the howl against the beef trust and the manner in which it has been held responsible for present conditions in the meat trade, prices are not controlled at Chicago.

In explaining conditions relative to the trade, Mr. Wilson remarked that "the day laborer in the sewer trench dines more sumptuously than ever did Queen Elizabeth in her days of greatest power. Think it over."

The trouble, according to Mr. Wilson, is that the demand is exceeding the supply. It is no longer profitable for the small farmer to go into the cattle-raising business. The great industrial centers have demanded laborers and have turned to the farm to get them. They have thus robbed the farmer of his laborer and increased the cost of his hire.

The production of beef, he says, has not kept up with the natural increase in population, not to mention the fact that the increase in beef eating has been far in excess of the proportionate increase in population.

Laborer Wants More Meat.
In the past, the artisan and the laborer was content to have meat not more than once each day, and it was usually stewing meat or boiling meat. Before that he was content with meat two or three times a week. Now there are few laborers, under the present scale of pay in this country, who do not demand meat twice a day, and there are a surprisingly large number who want it with every meal. They are not content with the cheaper grades either, but insist upon chops and steaks and the choicest meats.

Mr. Wilson points to the fact that immigration to this country has now reached a million persons a year. Little of this finds employment in callings which contribute to the increase of beef production, but rather to beef consumption. An informal inquiry by officers of the department lead to the discovery that, within three or four weeks after coming to this country, immigrants who could name the days, as holidays; in each month, when they ate meat abroad, were demanding and securing meat with two meals every day.

Past Amount Exported.
Again the secretary believes that the fact that last year we found such a profitable market abroad, that we were able to export meat products to the amount of $232,000,000 has been lost sight of, in its effect upon the price of beef in this country.

The possibilities of grazing and keeping beef cattle under economical conditions in the west, are growing constantly more and more restricted. In short, the secretary of agriculture, while not attempting to condone or excuse some of the deplorable practices of the beef trust, does think, at this time, that the advance in the price of beef now so generally commented upon, is due to the conditions he points out and not to the machinations of any monopoly or corporation.

FOURTH OF JULY BASEBALL GAME

Marion, Ill., Team Will Meet Independents

Manager Hollan Is Picking Up Good Material in Tryout With Cairo.

CULLEYS AND THE PEARLS

The John Hollan Independent baseball team will play the crack Marion, Ill., independent team in Paducah July 4, and Hollan is reinforcing with the best players possible to secure. He will meet the Cairo Rubys here Sunday and see what there is in several players recently signed, and from the "try outs" will be able to select the best of the new material.

After an absence of three years of W. A. Harley, considered during the season the best first sacker in the Kitty league the season Paducah won the pennant, wishes to come back to the reservation, and has written Manager John Hollan to see if he can be used here. Harley is from Dayton, O., and not only is a crack sticker and first sacker, but a good looking man as many lady fans will testify. Hollan believes that Harley does not understand the situation, but will write him terms. Harley is playing on a crack Ohio independent team and is in good form.

Nashville wants to play Paducah again, and writes that the reason the team failed to show up here last Sunday was, that no definite arrangements were understood to exist as to the gate receipts. The team wants $75 guaranteed it to pay expenses. Hollan will break even or play fair enough with the foreigners, but is not giving away gold dollars for 50 cents, he says.

Culleys vs Pearls.
The Pearls and Culleys will play again Sunday afternoon at the Union depot grounds. The pitchers are Dunbar for Pearls and Gallagher for the Culleys.

WALLACE PARK
Offers an Interesting Attraction for Next Week.

The public of today is clamoring for something new in the way of amusement, something out of the ordinary, something unexplainable. Hypnotists have ceased to mystify and mind readers have passed unnoticed, because the public has solved to its satisfaction the problems these things have presented.

But now comes Marie Rolfsen, a native of Norway, frail and slight, weighing scarcely 110 pounds, who possesses some new and unknown power, the like of which has never been recorded; who can defy the unchanging laws of gravitation in a hundred different ways.

Miss Rolfsen has given demonstrations of her wonderful and unknown power on every quarter of the globe, appearing before nearly all of the crowned heads of the world—and before the leading doctors and scientific men in every city where she has appeared.

Miss Rolfsen will be seen at the Wallace park theater all next week.

Two Ships to Japan's One.

The Japanese are a sensitive, proud and warlike people. "Look crossed-eyed at him, an' they're into yer hair," remarks Mr. Dooley. Their natural disposition to feel insult keenly and resent it quickly is increased by the consciousness of recent victory over the Caucasian race of five feet ten. If we avoid war with them for the next ten years, it will be because we shall have treated them with an excess of studied courtesy never practiced toward any other nation, or have maintained a navy so obviously superior that they fear to fight us. Are we likely to escape by the former method? Is the San Francisco stevedore, on a Saturday night spree, collectively so potential of international insult, likely to learn the discriminating wisdom of the Sage of Archey Road: "Ye can bump any foreigners ye meet but a Jap; don't touch him; he's a live wire." Will drunken Dennis Kearney, lurching down Mission street pay-day night, check a belligerent fist to save gray hairs for Mr. Root? Hardly. Whatever respect may be practiced by the more enlightened and responsible, the feeling of the street crowd which makes international complications will be that of the Philippine army poet, when Governor Taft was preaching consideration and duty toward "our little brown brother:"

"He may be a brother of William H. Taft,
But he ain't no brother of mine."
A Japanese general, wearing all the medals that he so rightly won at Mukden, carrying a Yale diploma in one hand and a Harvard degree in the other, would continue to be, to the American truck-driver, at the best, an amusing little brown man. This is, of course, utterly wrong, and disillusionment would partake of the nature of retribution; but for Japan's interest and our own, so long as this prejudice continues, with its big possibilities for casus belli, the best in-ulator for live wires on the Pacific ocean is two ships to Japan's one.—From Collier's for June 22, 1907.

"We have left undone the things we should have done," acknowledged the fair worshiper. "It's all right, dear," whispers a motherly soul in the pew back of her. "It's not undone any more. I reached over and hooked it while you was standing up."—St. Louis Republic.
